A STUDENT'S GUIDE TO THE A LEVEL IN SPANISH

What do I need to know or be able to do before taking this course?

In order to study this subject, it is usual to have a GCSE qualification in Spanish at level 6+.

The course focuses on the study of the Spanish language through topics linked to the lives of young people today and then looks at issues concerning the wider world.

What will I learn on this A level course?

The course will enable you to:

- develop your ability to communicate in Spanish
- improve your interpersonal & communication skills generally
- develop your self confidence
- enhance your understanding of topical issues
- develop your ability to express and justify your own opinions
- broaden your career opportunities

What kind of student is this course suitable for?

This course will appeal to students who:

- have a genuine interest in the language
- enjoy communicating
- have a committed and thorough approach to work
- would like to work in an international context
- might like to learn another language in the future
- have the motivation to practise spoken Spanish

What exactly will I be studying?

Core content:

1. Social issues and trends
2. Political and artistic culture
3. Grammar

Options:

4. Literary texts and films
5. Individual research project

1. Social issues and trends

These themes and sub-themes are studied in relation to at least one French speaking country.

Aspects of Hispanic society – current trends:

- The changing nature of family
- The 'cyber society'
- Gender equality

Multiculturalism in Hispanic society:

- Immigration
- Integration
- Racism

2. Political and artistic culture

These themes and sub-themes are also studied in relation to at least one French speaking country.

Artistic culture in the Hispanic world:

- Modern day idols
- Regional identity
- Cultural heritage

Aspects of political life in the Hispanic world:

- Teenagers, the right to vote and political commitment
- Monarchies and dictatorships
- Demonstrations, strikes and popular movements

3. Grammar

Knowledge of the grammar and structures specified for GCSE is assumed. This is revised and extended to enable candidates to express themselves effectively in fluent Spanish.

4. Literary texts and films

We will study one literary text from the list of set texts and also one film, again from the list prescribed by the board. One will be studied in yr. 12 and the other in yr. 13.

5. Individual research project

Students will identify a subject or a key question which is of interest to them and which relates to a country or countries where Spanish is spoken. They select relevant information from a range of sources, analyse and summarise their findings in order to present and discuss them in the speaking assessment.

What examinations will I have to take to get my qualification?

The A level course is linear which means that exams are taken at the end of the two-year course. There are 3 examinations.

Paper 1 – Listening, Reading and Writing

- 40% of A level
- 160 marks in total
- Written exam; 2 hours 30 minutes

Paper 2 – Writing

- 30% of A level
- 90 marks in total

Economics

Politics

and of course, other languages!!

WORK EXPERIENCE

To improve your spoken Spanish, we strongly advise you to take advantage of the work experience opportunity in Spain, which we can facilitate.

You could find yourself helping in a fitness centre, a restaurant, a library, a swimming pool, or a shop and you do have a choice!

Meet other language students and enjoy a Spanish social life!

WHY STUDY A LEVEL SPANISH?

Choosing an A-level language is a really smart move if you want a fascinating subject that offers you a range of career possibilities at the end and are a lot of fun along the way. A-level language courses are interesting and varied subjects to study and give you a broad range of knowledge and skills. Learning a language is a never-ending process; languages are constantly changing, bringing in new words and getting rid of old ones.

The skills and qualifications that you gain from studying a language at A-level are incredibly important tools to have under your belt.

What other subjects can I study?

An A-level language complements a whole variety of subjects. You may need languages for all sorts of career destinations - doctors, psychologists and physiotherapists need language skills to communicate effectively with patients whether they work in the UK or overseas; businessmen, bankers and entrepreneurs all need language skills to make deals and sell products on the global market. Politicians, historians, geographers and holiday reps all need language skills to get to know the people and area that they are passionate about. A foreign language A level will complement and enhance your other A level studies.

What can I do afterwards?

Languages are an invaluable skill to have. Having a language can increase your salary from 8 to 20% and gives you a head start on other potential employees as by speaking another language you're vital to any company who does international business (and there are a lot of them). Plus, a language is also an advantage for lots of university courses so it's something to consider if you're thinking about university in the future. Languages are key to the exciting multinational world we live in!
